FOURTH SUNDAY IN LENT (C) Sunday 30th March, 2025

Joshua 5.9a,10–12 Psalm 34 2 Corinthians 5.17–21 Luke 15.1–3,11–32

The turning point of the parable of the Prodigal Son is verse 17. The ESV's plodding 'When he came to himself' just won't do. Something like 'Going deep into himself' (there is a double 'into') expresses better the beginning of the journey he is about to make. He is dredging for the person he truly is. This becomes apparent in his soliloquy when three times he uses the word 'father' showing that the relationship though damaged is still intact.

This deep-down interior journey enables him to discover his true self, a beloved son, and come to that momentous decision to rise and go to his father. This 'rising' is what the two companions on the road to Emmaus also do, another story of running away and returning. The same word is used in both stories, reflecting the rising of Christ after the crisis of the Cross and the potential for reconciliation he brings.

Paul's teaching about the outer self and inner self is also relevant. In Christ, there is a new creation; the old has passed and the new has come. By way of contrast, the elder son must still make this interior journey which his sense of entitlement prevents him from doing. He is still in relationship with his father – 'Son, you are always with me' – but not his brother – 'this son of yours'. The story is open ended with the elder brother outside looking in and with the entreaty and address of the Father. Perhaps, perhaps, he might discover who he truly is, a beloved son and brother, take part in the joy and gladness of the celebration, and together eat the fruit of the land by breaking bread together with his father and brother as companions on a shared journey.

Keep safe and well, Fr. Emile
